WORDS FROM THE

WIZARD

It's been almost 5 months since we opened & the wizards of TARG are pretty stoked - we've got a bunch of new and exciting news coming your way!

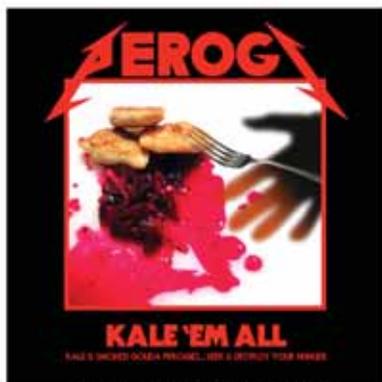

The perogi wizards are working hard, developing new recipes and exciting perogi additions including a vegan option and finally the long awaited bacon/sausage side is just around the corner. The mighty arcade wizards have secured a mechanized stair climbing device which will allow easier movement/loading. They put it to good use by installing the much requested STREET FIGHTER 2 machine & the fun as heck Terminator 2: Judgment Day pinball. We have great new drink specials including ONE OF THOSE and the FIRE KITTY Caesar, a calendar packed with awesome shows and even a couple new wizards on staff!! We are very grateful to count ourselves part of an unrivalled local community of neighbours, patrons, artists/bands, gamers, foodies and friends of all ages - your support is greatly appreciated and drives us to improve and grow at every opportunity.

Super awesome - thank you!!!
- Yogi

CLASSIC ALBUMS REVIEWED BY A MILLENNIAL by 15 year old FELIX

Hey folks, well summer's over and many are back in that very useful but almost universally hated (at some point or another) institution called school. But hey, even if you happen to have the back to school blues, I think I can offer a temporary fix.

You see folks, as a person currently going through high school I've had my fair share of awesome days and days which due to my censoring myself I simply call garts. Garts (gart in the singular sense) are those days that are the exact opposite of what we at Targ enjoy (Targ?gart? get it? no? well... just keep reading), which leave you with a bitter taste in your mouth that could have been much improved with some sour cream and beet salad... but I'm getting off topic. The point is it was during stretches of garts that I found a healthy dose of thrash metal would vastly improve my day, and the first thrash band I listened to was, you guessed it, Megadeth! If it wasn't then, well, all of this buildup would have been rather pointless.

At first I was listening to all post-Rust in Peace Albums (Countdown to Extinction, etc)

These were all metal albums, but a bit of a step away from Megadeth's thrash roots. However once I discovered the pre-Countdown to Extinction period, Megadeth really grabbed me and hasn't let go since. Soon whenever I would have a gart I would find myself listening to R.I.P. Mildly Insane teacher? Rust in Peace. Suspected I failed a test? Rust in Peace. Pop music obsessed masses somehow getting a boy band to play a show at my school? Rust in Peace.

But enough background how the actual album is? It kicks off with two of my favorite thrash metal songs, Holy Wars and Hangar 18. While Holy Wars starts off tire-meltingly fast but slows down later, Hangar 18 is slower but a bit more consistent in its rhythm. Take no prisoners is in the same line as these two. In both Five Magics and Poison was the Cure, they start off very slow but then go to breakneck speed in a millisecond (I'm assuming this is so you can get a break headbanging). After that the tracks slow down but are very good, Tornado of Souls in particular. The album goes out with a bang, as the title track wraps everything up, and has fast and slow moments and leaves you completely satisfied. However, the track which comes before this (Dawn Patrol) is just really confusing. I never really wanted to hear how many weird noises Mustaine could make with his mouth, but hey, at a minute and a half, this is only a small blemish on a great album. So going back to my original point, if you are like me and have the occasional gart during school, then I would recommend this album to bring up your spirits, or just to make your already good mood better.

PUNK ROCK DukeBOX

Some of Ottawa's best indie musicians cover the songs of their heroes all in the name of charity!

The Ottawa Punk Cover Nights started in 2008 to pay tribute to our favourite punk bands of the past, to lose our voice from singing along to classic gems, and raise money for grass-root and non-for-profit organizations and causes. We've raised money for everything from The Kids Help Phone to the Pussy Riot Legal Defense Fund to the Friendly Giants Dog Rescue. We have four cover nights coming up at HOUSE OF TARG, and we're raising money for some awesome stuff

OTTAWA PINBLOG

By Josh MacKay

It is now September & that means summer is over... Fear not though, my dears. September also means the Ottawa/Gatineau Pinball & Gameroom Show is right around the corner!!!

This will be our 4th annual show! I honestly didn't think that the first one would be a success, but here we are... With much thanks to the volunteer staff that breaks their backs every year to ensure there are games to play, and the kind folks who come out to play year after year, we have become Canada's longest running arcade exposition.

This year we're bringing back our friends from Cineplex/Starburst Coin Machines and The Church of the Silver Ball. New this year is veteran visual artist and pinball collector Brock Hemming, owner of pinballcustoms.com. Brock will be bringing some of his own pinball mods as well as showcasing the majesty of PDI glass. PDI glass is a special non-reflective glass developed for pinball machines that is almost completely invisible. You have to see it to believe it!

We will also be running the Capital pinball championship tournament in A, B, and junior divisions (that's right, your lil bundle o' joy could bring home a trophy and other prizes). The tourney will run all day Saturday only.

As always, admission gets you all the pinball you can handle. This year boasts the most machines for sale than ever, about 75-80% of the confirmed games will be available for sale or trade.

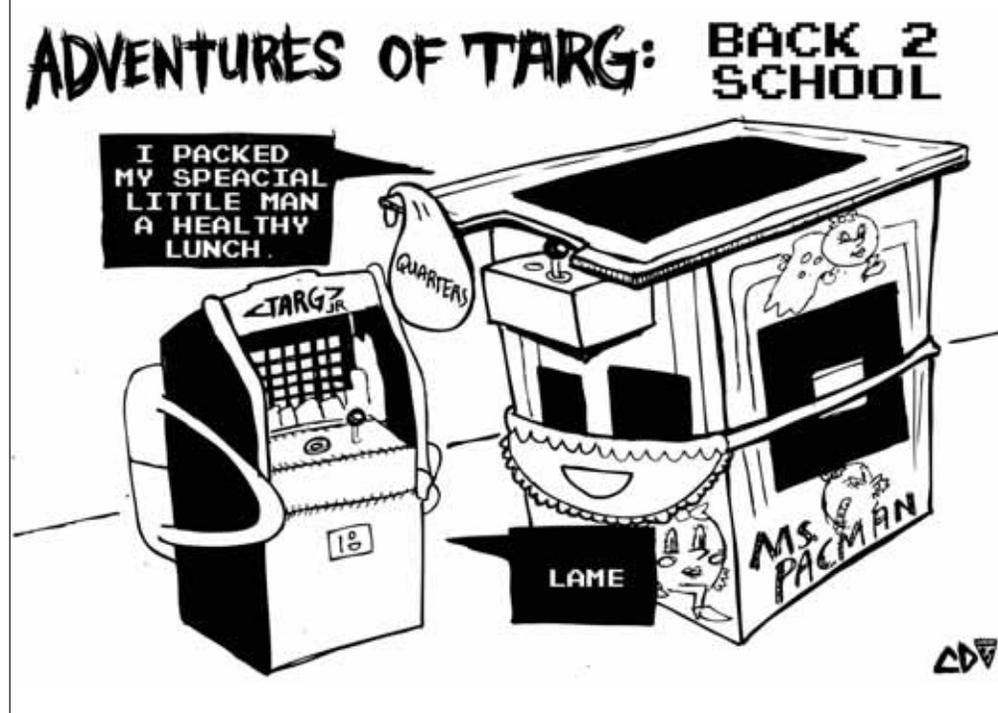

New to pinball?
Bring your wallet dudes!
Instant Mancave awaits!!!!

COOL CATS MAKING HOT SAUCES

On Sundays when all the FreePlay Fanatics go home after a fun nite of pinball, the TARG Wizards clean up the arcade and retire to their secret lairs to recharge their perogie order yelling voices, rest their elixir mixing hands, wash their wizard bell bottom pants & groom their beards (sort of) in order to prepare for the next week of hard work ahead.

But when the sun comes up on Monday, that doesn't mean all the magic has left the building. On the contrary. Our pals Larry Russell, Steph Christie & the gang from MEOW! THAT'S HOT take over the TARG kitchen and produce some of the most creative & tasty Hot Sauces around.

MEOW! THAT'S HOT started selling their all natural sauces in the summer of 2007 and have been using House of TARG as their manufacturing base since we opened in April of 2014. These guys aren't little kittens anymore and have their products in tons of cool specialty stores, markets and now you can even get them at FARM BOY Grocery stores. Way to go guys we are proud of you and thanks for helping us spice up our FIRE KITTY CAESAR. Check em out at www.meowthatshot.ca

WHILE MY FRIENDS WERE ALL PLAYING ON THEIR NES, MY FAMILY HAD THE 8 BIT HOME COMPUTER, THE COMMODORE 64 WHERE I DID ALL MY VIDEO GAMING ACTION. THE C64 WAS INTRODUCED IN JANUARY 1982 AND DISCONTINUED IN 1993. HERE WERE SOME OF MY FAVOURITE GAMES:

GHOSTBUSTERS (1984 - ACTIVISION):

WHEEL OF FORTUNE (1987 - SHAREDATA, INC.):

SUPER PIPELINE (1983 - TASKSET):
THE OBJECTIVE IS TO KEEP A SERIES OF PIPES UNBLOCKED SO THAT WATER MAY FLOW THROUGH THEM WHILE ENEMY SABOTEURS PLUG THE PIPES, AND BUGS AND MONSTERS ATTACK YOU

Baal (1989 - PSYGNOSIS):
YOU, A TIME WARRIOR IS SENT INTO THE RECESSES OF HELL TO RECOVER PIECES OF "THE WAR MACHINE" WHICH HAS BEEN STOLEN BY THE EVIL ANIMON, BAAL.

ASK A WIZARD FOR CRAYONS. GET CREATIVE, HAND IT IN TO GET POSTED ON THE TARG FRIDGE
