WICKED ALBUMS REVIEWED BY A MILLENNIAL

by 16year old Felix

ROLLINS BAND
Life Time
Label: 2.13.61 Records
Producer: Ian MacKaye

THIS IS PROBABLY ONE OF THE MOST UNDERRATED ALBUMS. One that is even overlooked by fans of Henry Rollins. Rollins devotees tend to listen to the BLACK FLAG discography, skip over ROLLINS BAND entirely (with the exception of a few of their more popular songs) and check out his spoken word. This is a grave mistake, and so I'll try to bring to yer attention an album that deserves classic status.

Almost immediately after Flag's breakup in '86, Rollins, along with guitarist Chris Haskett, bassist Andrew Weiss, and drummer Sim Cain, formed Rollins band in '87. Given that Rollins was of course in Flag for years, a band famous for their work ethic, and Weiss and Cain were former members of GONE (an instrumental band with Greg Ginn), it should be of no surprise that this album was released in the same year they formed.

Near the end of Black Flag's career, Rollins' vocal delivery had gotten much more laid back. On their final album, IN MY HEAD, it had gotten to a point where he was simply speaking the lyrics relatively normally on many tracks. On the opening track of LIFE TIME, "burned beyond recognition", the very first impression of this album is a great one, with the intro of the track being Rollins manically yelling "Yea! Yeah! YEAH!". Henry is absolutely lacerating his vocal chords throughout this album, and the level of sheer aggression is on par with DAMAGED or MY WAR.

The riffage provided on this album can best be described as twisted hard rock, and while still carries some of the wierdo jazz-rock influences from Gone and Flag, has a stronger emphasis on concrete riffs, and less on atonal solos and improvisation. While I dig all the riffs, due to the Fugazi-esque production style, (which should be of no surprise since Ian MacKaye produced this) which is a bit bare bones, they feel a bit subdued and under-emphasized.

While I don't dig the production, and feel a more raw approach was needed to convey the message being presented, this is still a great album. If ya dig it, it shouldn't be too hard to find, as Dischord did a repress not too long ago. Be sure to check 'er oot!

SKA JEFF'S HI-FIVES:

AS YOU ALL KNOW, I'M HUGE INTO PUNK ROCK. SADLY, ONE OF MY FAVOURITE PUNK ROCK MUSICIANS, DICKIE HAMMOND, PASSED AWAY THIS OCTOBER AT THE YOUNG AGE OF 50. HERE ARE SOME OF THE BEST RECORDS THAT HE PLAYED ON:

#5. YOUR CHOICE LIVE SERIES SPLIT W/ JAWBOX - (Band: Leatherface) (1994). Classic split with two iconic '90s bands.

#4. POISON IN THE SYSTEM (THE DEMOS) - (Band: Hex) (2015). Super underrated 1980s UK anarcho punk.

#1. MUSH

(Band: Leatherface) (1991). One of my all time fav albums for words I can't describe. This influenced half of the bands I love today.

#3. NOTHING VENTURED, NOTHING GAINED SPLIT 7" W/ FEED YOUR HEAD - (Band: Hex) (1987). One of my favourite splits.

#2. HUNG, DRAWN AND QUARTERED - (Band: HDQ) (1985). Underrated UK hardcore with some of the most insane riffage!

QUICK ADVICE FROM SLO' TOM

HI YA SLO: I THINK MAYBE I NEED GLASSES. EVERYTHING IS SUPER BLURRY EVEN WHEN I SOBER UP! PLUS, I'M BROKE AND I HAVE A SERIOUS MISTRUST OF OPTOMETRISTS. YOU GOTTA HELP ME, TOM! – Signed: Can'tCsoGood

Hey Can'tCsoGood: No problem. You're wise to avoid those dubious eye docs, for sure. You wouldn't believe how many people fall for their baloney fancy eye tests and prescriptions and specially made glasses... all that stuff is just a big scam. The human eye easily adjusts to whatever glasses you wear. I'll tell you what: I've got some old glasses lying around my shop (388 Gladstone). I think they used to belong to my uncle (god rest his troubled soul). Anyhow, come by and I'll find you a pair that will get you back to 20/20 in the blink of an eye! See ya soon, Can'tCsoGood!

HOWDEE SLO' TOM! MY NEW BOYFRIEND IS GREAT! HE'S SMART, GREAT IN THE SACK, AND HE LOVES ME. THE ONLY PROBLEM IS THAT HE HAS TERRIBLE TASTE IN MUSIC (AND I MEAN TERRIBLE!). IS THAT A "DEAL BREAKER" FOR YOU, SLO'?
– Signed: Singin'DaBlues

Dear Singin'DaBlues: Oh maaaan... yeah, this really takes me back. I remember one time I had to break up with a super hot girl because she loved Pink Floyd. But you know what? I never regretted it. Everyone has their limits, you know? So I say: ya gotta draw a line somewhere. I draw it at Pink Floyd. Now you've gotta ask yourself: where are you going to draw your line? And what side of of that line is this guy on? Good luck.

HEY THERE TOM: I'VE BEEN ASKED TO WRITE AN ADVICE COLUMN FOR A LOCAL FANZINE. GOT ANY TIPS? – Signed: Scabby

Dear Scabby: Here's some pointers: Keep it short, light hearted and universal. Write when you're tipsy edit when you're sober. Never miss a deadline and always remember that it's entertainment (no one actually wants your stupid advice). Best of luck, Scabby!

ELIXIR WIZARD'S CORNER

NEW BREW ALERT

FARMERS DAUGHTER

Whitewater Brewing Company

"Light & not too hoppy"

Fight seasonal depression with this easy going Ottawa Valley brewed blonde ale. It will keep memories of summer alive & mitigate the impending bleakness of another Ottawa winter. A selection of pale malted barley infuses with locally farmed hops to create a beer that is very refreshing and not overly challenging to the palette. Light, yet defined flavours instill a sense of the hard work and drive for quality that has gone into this blonde. If you are looking to test the waters of craft brewing this offering from Whitewater is a good place to start.

PINBALL FOR DUMMIES

ONE OF THE MOST EXCITING MODES IN PINBALL IS MULTIBALL. IT'S A GREAT WAY TO BOOST YOUR SCORE & FEEL THE RUSH OF A FULL ON FREAK OUT. IT DOESN'T JUST HAPPEN RANDOMLY THOUGH. EACH MACHINE HAS A SPECIFIC SET OF RULES AND TARGETS TO ACTIVATE THE MAYHEM.

KISS

Demon Multiball is activated by locking 3 balls inside Gene Simmons' mouth. Before you can ram a ball down the Demon's throat you must hit the "Lite Lock" standup targets flanking the lock entrance (A). Hitting both of them will illuminate the big green "Lock" triangle lite, indicating you are ready to aim for Gene's mouth. Repeat this 3 times and you will be in multiball heaven (disclaimer 3 balls in the mouth still isn't enough to shut that guy up).

METALLICA

To achieve Electric Chair Multiball hit Sparky (the cool looking monster with big tongue) 10 times to light multiball. The lights in front of him indicate your progress. When one shot is remaining, Sparky will taunt you and all three of the lights in front of him will strobe. Hit him one last time to give him a healthy dose of electricity & presto you've got multiball. There are 3 other multiball modes in Metallica but work on mastering this one first.

MUSTACHES FOR KIDS (M4K) IS TURNING 10 YEARS OLD...

After 9 years of strict growing rules, the 'stache dictators are opening up the competition. Clean Shave Day on Friday October 30th doesn't even require a fresh shave. Full beards and existing 'staches are invited to compete, and those 'upper-lip-only' limitations have been lifted. Want a fu manchu? Go for it. Handlebars more your style? Grow away. Register now at www.m4kottawa.org. New growers are definitely welcome.

EVERY QUARTER PUMPED INTO WWF WRESTLEFEST DURING NOV GOES TO M4K. IT'S THE GAME WITH THE MOST MUSTACHES.

FRIDAY MUSTACHE MEET UPS AT TARG

The month includes weekly Mustache Meet Ups, Friday evenings at House of Targ. Come grab a pint & some perogies & spend some time putting down other growers. It's ok though, there are a number of unsubstantiated medical theories that posits Mustache Abuse stimulates follicle growth.

THE STACHE BASH

The month of growing will culminate in the 'Stache Bash, where the Sweetest 'Stache is crowned. Past Champions have included Captain Crunch, Robert Goulet, Lando Calrissian, and Del Griffith (go ahead and google that). But with the corner to corner rule eliminated we could have some Hulk Hogans or Frank Zappas. Get those creative juices flowing and come prepared to dance!

IT'S FOR THE KIDS

The real goal of the growth is to raise money for the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Eastern Ontario. After 9 years of growing, M4K has raised over $200,000, granting wishes to local sick kids in need of a good time and a distraction from their medical situations. All money raised goes to the organization, and has a real impact on local families. Who knew an upper lip had so much potential?

WITH CHEF JAY

The TARG kitchen punks were busy beavers last month. We catered several private events & somehow managed to lovingly hand prepare 13 000 perogies for the 2015 Beaus Oktoberfest! I decided it was time for a much needed vacation. What better place than Illinois, the capital of pinball & home to the Stern Pinball factory.

STERN FACTORY TOUR & CHICAGO PINBALL EXPO

The factory tour allowed me to check out the fine detail they put into every, predominately, hand made machine. Then it was off to the Chicago Pinball Expo in Wheeling, Illinois, for the Game of Thrones pinball world release party. Prior to the big unveiling I was lucky to play some notable prototypes like Dutch Pinball's newest effort The Big Lebowski (against pinball legend Roger Sharpe, and won!) and Bride of Pinbot 2.0 as well as some rare classics like Gottlieb's Going Nuts and Bally's Captain Fantastic. Eventually it was time to start the party & celebrate the new Steve Ritchie designed Game of Thrones pinball machine.

A BRUSH WITH PINBALL ROYALTY

After playing a few rounds, I checked out the autograph session featuring industry heavyweights Gary Stern (head of Stern Pinball) & Steve Ritchie, AKA "the king of flow" by fellow pinball nerds. The latter is arguably the best pinball designer in the history of the game. As I approached Gary Stern, I couldn't help but notice he was staring at my House of TARG shirt. He grabbed his glasses to confirm, "thats House of TARG in Canada, right?" He was as excited to meet me as I was him. He had read all about our games, tournaments, perogies and shows, and wanted to know more. He said our idea for TARG was "kookie" and expressed how much he loved it, and wished us the best.

THE GAME OF THRONES PINBALL IS A MASTERPIECE

After a drink with Gary, I went to watch Canadian champion Robert Gagno try out the new Game of Thrones L.E. Steve Ritchie joined me, as we stood and analyzed Robert's playing, and discussed his unique approach to the game. This guy was intense, and managed an incredible score of 1.5 billion points on his first attempt at the game. The Game of Thrones is a masterpiece. One of Stern's and Ritchie's best games to date. The shots flow smoothly, and the multiball is intense. I look forward to playing it again at the Canadian release, because I know after that, the next stop is to drop one off at House of TARG. You folks are in for a treat.

GARY STERN - CEO of STERN Pinball.

STEVE RITCHIE - Designer of STERN's GAME OF THRONES.
